

Reviews

Richard A. Falkenrath, Ph.D. Former White House Deputy, Homeland Security Advisor:

"This handbook represents an important step toward creating the professional community that governments require to implement a comprehensive homeland security agenda effectively and efficiently."

Joshua Sinai...

"Written by a virtual "Who's Who" of terrorism, counterterrorism and homeland security experts, the handbook includes chapters on virtually every aspect of this subject.... This book is a bargain at $99.95 if used as a university textbook or as a reference resource by government and business executives."